They're off in a bunch.

The bars are up, the track is clear and every one of the enterprising candidates who are entered in the News-Bulletin big automobile and prize campaign has the "right of way." The preliminaries are now over, and the race for the rich prizes—headed by that splendid brand new 1920 model Overland touring car, worth $960, is now on in earnest.

Preceding this article will be found the first published announcement of the standing of candidates, showing the number of votes cast for each up to date. Each competitor has started in the race with a vim, determined to win or know the reason why, and the battle royal now in evidence is attracting county-wide attention.

Several of the most aggressive candidates, notwithstanding the rainy and disagreeable weather and bad roads, have started in the race with a goodly number of votes to their credit, but the leaders of today do not necessarily indicate the winners by any means, as three weeks remain to bridge the chasm now existing between the highest and those farthest down the line.

Don't Get Discouraged.

Don't become discouraged because you are not at the head of the list in today's vote exhibit. The contest is just now in its infancy, and there is not a single candidate among those listed above who could not, if the proper effort and interest were put into the matter, secure enough votes and subscriptions by this time next week to lead the entire field.

When one takes into consideration the fact that 50,000 SPECIAL EXTRA votes are allowed on every "club" of $17.50 in subscriptions turned in, over and above the number of votes allowed on each single subscription, it can readily be seen how high vote totals are obtained, and that no one has a "walk-away" for the big prize automobile.

Time Is Limited—Get Busy.

Now is the time for those competing in this race to "make the dust fly." Three weeks remain during which to secure the maximum number of votes on subscriptions—three weeks in which to win or lose—for that is exactly what it means. After November 29 there is a material decrease in the schedule of votes; and, then there is a still further decline in the schedule of votes. In fact, it is cut almost in half.

Our best advice to those who wish to win is to hurry every available subscription to the campaign NOW while the BIG VOTES are in effect. Not to do so simply means that you are throwing golden chances away—chances that may bring you the big prize automobile, a free vacation trip to Colorado, or something equally as attractive.

No Quitters Here.

You are "off in a bunch" now and the pace is growing hot. Your ability and popularity have been demonstrated. Can you finish strong, as you started, with the best talent and the keenest wit of Mokena and surrounding community pitted against you? You most certainly can, unless your courage fails you now. Who can finish victorious in the face of keen competition? If we know character at all, we opine that no such misery as a quitter will appear among those entered in the News-Bulletin campaign. Certainly the winners will be entitled to admiration for defeating such a field, and as certain will commendations be the due of those who "die game."

Get in the race with a shout, for they'are off in a bunch, and may the best candidate win.

INQUEST HELD ON MEXICAN INFANT, WED.

W. C. Wunderlich, Will county coroner, was called to Mokena Wednesday to hold an inquest on a few days old baby belonging to a Mexican family, which died in one of the Rock Island bunk cars occupied by the child's parents. The infant died from exposure according to the verdict returned by the coroner's jury. The parents gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. Santos Chavish. The infant was buried in St. Mary's cemetery Wednesday.

AWARDED FIRST PRIZE ON PIGS AT COUNTY EXHIBIT

Fat pigs, raised on her father's farm in New Lenox, won first prize for Miss Adella Francis, 14 years old, Tuesday at the exhibit of the Will County Pig Club at the Baumgartner farm near Cherry Hill. Poland China pigs exhibited by Miss Francis won three silver cups and several other first awards. The Poland Chinas will be exhibited at the International Stock Show in Chicago this month, it was announced after the exhibit.

BAZAAR A SUCCESS

New Lenox, Nov. 13.—The bazaar and supper directed by the ladies of the Methodist church at the church parlors Thursday was a grand success, socially and financially. The various booths were exceptionally well patronized and a neat sum was cleared. All the reports have not been available, so a complete report of the amount cleared cannot be made. The receipts cleared from the fancy work booth totaled $90; the apron booth cleared $70 and the Junior department came in with $27. The church parlors were prettily decorated as also were the tables and booths in chrysanthemums, colors yellow, lavender and white, chrysanthemums also being used in the decorative scheme as well as streamers. An oyster supper was served from 6 to 8 o'clock. The various committees agree that this was one of the most successful bazaars ever held in New Lenox.

MOKENA WILL HAVE SERIES WINTER DANCES

Mokena, Nov. 13.—A number of young men of Mokena have clubbed together and have formed a club to be known as "The Entertainers," the object of the club being to provide for amusement for the winter months. A series of dances are being planned for, to be held at the Mokena hall. The opening dance of the winter series will be held at Mokena hall on November 22, and other dances will be given every two weeks apart. A number of special dances have been arranged for later on in the season. The boys are planning to show everybody attending these hops a good time.

R. I. MAKES IMPROVEMENTS.

The Rock Island railroad has made improvements about the depot by raising the north-side track and spreading fresh cinders about the depot walks.

The motor which burned out at the village pumping station has been shipped to the Western Electric company for repairs. The wires were entirely burned out of the motor. A gasoline engine is at present running the pump.

The ladies of the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church are diligently engaged in preparing for their annual bazaar and supper, to be held at the church parlors on November 20. A fine assortment of articles suitable for Christmas gifts will be offered for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew E. Wachter got up a party at the Mokena hall Tuesday night for welcoming all the returned soldier and sailor boys of Mokena. A very good time was enjoyed by all present. Dancing was the main feature of the evening. Refreshments of various kinds were served.

ENTERTAINS CLASS.

D. M. Lockwood entertained the M. F. G. members of his Sunday school class of the Methodist church at his home Wednesday. A fine social time was enjoyed by all.

Miss Dora Kohlbaum of Chicago was a guest at the Eggers' home over Sunday.

FRANKFORT REAL ESTATE CHANGES RUN IN HUNDREDS

Frankfort, Nov. 13.—Farm land in Frankfort township has been changing hands of late and considerable has been attached to these deals. The Christ Kohlhagen farm, consisting of 109 acres, was recently sold to Luke Story of Rochelle, Ill. The consideration was $20,000. The deal was handled by Ona McGovney, Mokena real estate agent. Mr. Story is well known in the region of New Lenox township and the southwest part of Frankfort township, having resided in New Lenox township a few years ago.

ATTENDS DEDICATION OF NEW BRIDGE.

William Lankenau, president of the Frankfort State bank, attended a big barbecue at Kankakee the past week, which was held in connection with the dedication of the large, new bridge, which connects Will and Kankakee counties, the bridge spanning the Kankakee river. This bridge is a very important one, connecting the two counties and has been built at a cost of thousands of dollars, the cost being divided between the two counties.

A glimpse of the days of the past is revealed in the still standing abutments of a once proposed railroad bridge a short distance from the new bridge. These old abutments tell of the Chicago and St. Louis railroad, which was to have run through Frankfort. Construction work had been started on this railroad with the building of the bridge abutments and the grading for the roadbed, when the great Chicago fire came along in the early seventies and put the railroad out of business, as all of their valuable papers were burned and the loss they suffered was so great that they never rallied from the effect. There are still traces of the old roadbed throughout Frankfort township by way of deep cuts through some farms, which have never been filled in. Had this railroad been constructed, it would have given Frankfort a direct route through to Chicago and St. Louis. According to the old survey, the railroad would have run through the east end of the village, close to the present site of the St. Peter's Evangelical church. This road would also have run through Tinley Park. Charles Vogt, well known Tinley Park resident and business man in that day, had a vision that the building of this road would mean a big boom for Tinley Park and invested thousands of dollars in building a large brick building, which was to have been used as a hotel. With the failure of the enterprise, many people interested in it suffered heavy losses. The Vogt building stands today and is now used as a flat building.

Harry Genenes, who recently purchased the John Fox property, has moved into this residence.

How to Jump Into the Lead

On each 5-year subscription to The News-Bulletin, or approximately its equivalent in shorter term orders, 25,000 votes are allowed—providing same is received at the campaign department before 8 o'clock Saturday night, November 29.

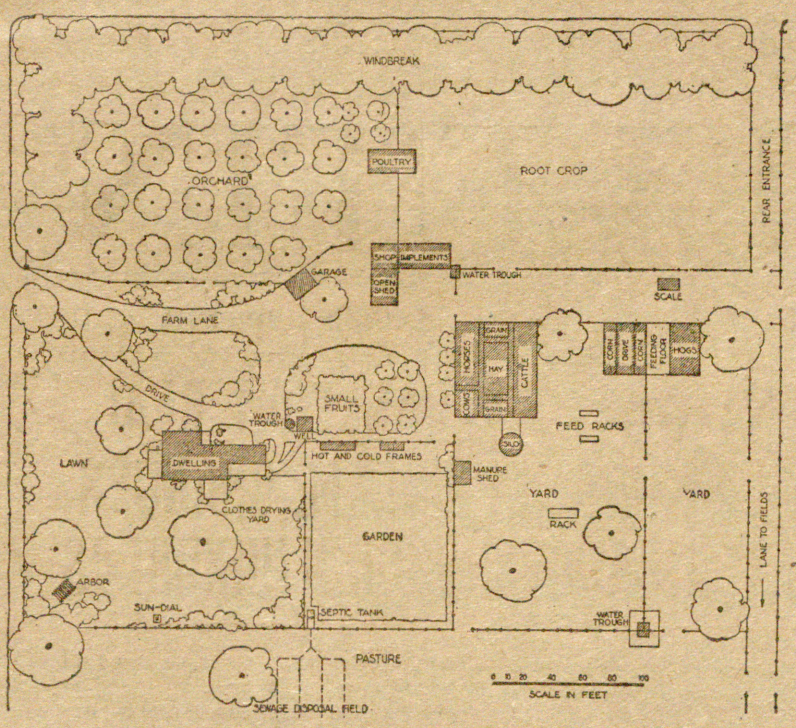
Then in addition to that, 50,000 SPECIAL EXTRA VOTES are allowed on every "club" of $17.50 turned in.

Therefore, Two 5-Year Subscriptions (Amounting to $17.50 in business) Means 100,000 Votes

It can readily be seen by glancing at the vote totals above that just a few such subscriptions for any candidate would furnish a new leader in the race; in fact an ENTIRELY NEW CANDIDATE who at this time has no votes at all could, by a little enthusiastic action on the part of themselves and friends, climb to the top of the list and thereby acquire the leadership for the big prize automobile.

And, when one takes into consideration the value of the prize to be awarded and the short time the competition is in force, they are well worth any effort they might take to secure. Call on your friends at once for 5-year subscriptions.

GOOD ARRANGEMENT OF ROADWAYS ON ANY FARM WILL SAVE BOTH TIME AND LABOR



The Diagram Given Herewith Shows a Good Arrangement of Drives and Lanes.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Good-road building, like charity, should begin at home. This is another way of stating that private roads on the farm are as important to the interests they serve as the public roads over which the farmer's product is hauled to market.

In proportion to its use a poor private road to a farm is as great a handicap to efficient marketing as well as other farm operations, as a poor public highway. The fundamental principle involved in the construction of the two kinds of roads is the same, according to the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture. But, as the farm road is called on to bear far less traffic, the ordinary methods of construction and maintenance are so modified and the use of materials so adapted as to meet the special requirements and reduce the cost. To build the farm roads in the same manner and design as public thoroughfares which carry much greater traffic, in general, would be a useless waste of money.

The first consideration is the location of the roads and paths about the farm. The roads and paths are a part of the permanent farm plant. Consequently they should be so located as to serve best the purpose for which they are intended, should fit in with the general scheme of the farm and at the same time should avoid, as much as possible, places which would require difficult and expensive construction or maintenance. The main consideration, however, must be to secure the highest degree of efficiency from the farm plant as a whole.

The accompanying diagram, showing an ideal arrangement of farm buildings as well as of connecting lanes and drives, offers helpful suggestions to the farmer who is planning new vehicle ways in the immediate vicinity of his farmhouse. This particular arrangement is for a farmstead occupying a corner lot, which permits a second, or rear, entrance from the public highway, this lane, running to the north, shown at the right side of the diagram, is a convenience in case stock is to be driven to the market, in that the animals need not be driven past the house, thereby subjecting shrubs, trees and the lawn to possible damage.

The earth road is the most common type of farm road and will probably so remain. When properly crowned, drained and maintained with the split-log drag or other similar device, the earth road, on all but a few exceptional soils or in a few places immediately around the farm lots and buildings, can be made to answer the requirements fairly well.

The fundamental requirement of an earth road is always good drainage. This involves, first, the removal of the water which reaches the surface of the road from precipitation or otherwise; and second, in certain places the removal of any ground water which reaches the road from underground seepage. Surface drainage is accomplished by securing a reasonable firm crowned roadway and providing ditches of sufficient size and with ample grade and frequent outlets. Subdrainage to remove the water from beneath the road surface or to prevent its passage into the roadbed is usually accomplished most effectively by so-called blind drains or by means of properly located tile drains.

Roads and drives immediately around the farmyards and barns which are used very frequently are usually of sufficient importance to warrant some surface improvement.

Inexpensive Surfacing Materials.

Many of the materials ordinarily employed in road construction will be found too expensive for use in improving the farm roads. One or more of the following will, however, usually be found available and within the means of the farmer for surfacing his roads and paths: Gravel, mixtures of sand and clay, cinders, brickbats from old buildings, brickyard waste, and quarry waste. The material selected should be hard enough to withstand crushing under heavy loads and possess sufficient binding power to compact well and maintain a firm, hard surface.

Drainage and a good foundation are the first considerations in improving a road with a hard surface. The best possible foundation is a good earth road with a low crown. Earth shoulders may be graded upon each side to prevent the surfacing material from spreading, as in the construction of an ordinary macadam road. The material used for surfacing should be placed in a uniform layer or layers on this foundation and should be given a sufficient crown to shed the rain waters to the sides. If a road roller can be secured the material may be quickly consolidated.

Making Good Footpaths.

For surfacing footpaths, gravel, mixtures of sand and clay, and cinders will, in general, give good satisfaction.

Too often the mistake is made of building the path so low that it becomes a drainage channel. Concrete makes a most excellent walk, and is now widely used for this purpose. Full details as to mixing and placing concrete for walks and other uses on the farm are given in Farmers' Bulletin No. 461, "The Use of Concrete on the Farm," which may be had free from the United States department of agriculture.

GRASSHOPPERS NEXT SEASON

Killing by Poisoning and Plowing Are Most Effective Ways of Guarding 1920 Crop.

Each female grasshopper lays from 80 to 160 eggs, in clusters of 40 to 80 in small holes about 1½ inches below the surface of the ground. Mr. Stewart Lockwood, entomologist for the North Dakota Agricultural college, says that if these eggs are allowed to hatch next year's crops are in serious danger. He states that killing by poisoning and plowing are the two most effective ways of safeguarding the 1920 crop. This year it was found that very few if any grasshoppers hatched out on plowed land. Sixty per cent of the hoppers came from roadsides, fence rows, flax stubble land, and 40 per cent from land that was stubbled into crop the fall of 1918.

Cooling Milk Properly.

The farmer who has a source of reasonably cold water can cool his milk properly even though he has no ice supply.

SILO IS PAYING INVESTMENT

Hole in Ground, Wood, Concrete or Brick Structure Will Give Farmer Good Service.

Plan to have a silo of some kind. It may be as simple as a hole in the ground, and it may be a wooden silo; it may be a concrete silo or it may be a tile block silo. All will give good service and be a big paying investment.

Hogs Must Be Pushed.

You need not expect big-framed hogs from starved pigs. They must be pushed from the time they are able to eat until the finish, and on bone-producing feed if you want strong animals.

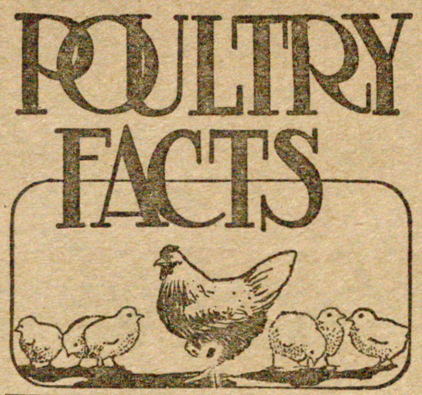
Fine Winter Green Feed.

Lawn clippings dried in the sun and stored make fine winter green feed for chickens.

More Feed for Layers.

Laying hens require more food than those not laying.

POULTRY FACTS



GIVE GRIT TO AID DIGESTION

Hens Should Have Access at All Times to Supply of Material to Help Grind Feed.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The hens should have access at all times to a supply of grit or stones of a size small enough to be swallowed readily. Grit is used by the hens to help in grinding in their gizzards the hard grains which they eat. A supply of ordinary gravel will answer the purpose of grit very well. Crushed oyster or clam shell also should be given to the hens and be kept before them at all times. If this is withheld the hens are likely to lack sufficient shell-forming material in their feed, with the result that they lay many soft-shelled or thin-shelled eggs. Grit or shell can be purchased in small quantities at any feed or poultry supply store.

Self-Feeders Are Handy for Holding Grit, Crushed Oyster Shell, Etc.

PECULIARITIES OF TURKEYS

Show the Least Intelligence of Any Farm Fowl When Young and the Most When Matured.

Some one said the turkey shows the least intelligence when small and the most intelligence after maturity of any fowl known. This is true of all the farm fowls. The goose and duck will often go some distance from the poultry range, make a nest, deposit their eggs, sit and hatch, if undisturbed, taking no notice as to whether being watched by human eyes or not. The turkey is very cautious. She will lead one, if she finds she is being watched, away from the nest or where she intends making it, often making a nest and sitting down cozily, until her watcher decides, or is deceived into thinking she is on the nest, but he will have to try it over again. After the watcher has gone away, she leaves her temporary nest for the true one, deposits her egg and usually covers it deeply with leaves or other trash.

WINTER SHELTER FOR GEESE

Fowls Are Very Hardy and Open Sheds Are Satisfactory for Cold Weather Season.

Geese do not need shelter except during cold winter weather, when open sheds may be provided. Goslings are not usually hatched until good pasture is available, and need additional feed only for a few weeks. The range of pasture used either for goslings or for geese should be large enough so that the grass will remain clean, or the stock should be moved frequently to fresh land. Coops, barrels, or some other dry shelter should be provided for the young goslings. Geese are very hardy and free from diseases and insect pests.

POULTRY NOTES

If you would avoid limberneck allow no dead carcasses or maggots on your farm.

It pays every farmer to have a poultry-wired yard for his fowls in which they may be enclosed when desirable.

* * *

The hen needs exercise the same as a human being. You can't expect hens to have health and lay winter eggs when huddled up in a small space.

Criticism and Citizenship

It is the plain, public duty of every citizen to criticize proposed government measures believed to be harmful.

Swift & Company is in a better position perhaps, than others, to understand the meat packing business in all its relations to public and private interests, even though the others may have been giving the subject a great deal of sincere attention.

Swift & Company is convinced that interference with its legitimate business function by governmental agencies, however well intentioned, would be an injury to every man, woman and child who wants meat to eat, as well as to the men who raise the meat and to those who dress and distribute it.

Maximum service that cannot monopolize because of keen competition and lack of control over sources of supply is furnished at a minimum of profit—a fraction of a cent per pound from all sources.

Therefore Swift & Company is taking every legitimate step of citizenship to prevent such interference.

These advertisements are intended to help you, and to help Congress decide what is best to be done. Mistakes are costly and apt to be harmful in these trying times.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. THE SUREST FOUNDATION

Thirty years are a severe probation. Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine was brought to the market in 1890 and has stood the test. To-day it has the reputation of being of the highest reliability. Its manufacturers always kept and keep to the great rule formulated by Andrew Carnegie: "Subject all products to more rigid tests than purchaser requires. A reputation for producing the best is a sure foundation upon which to build." Thousands of those who suffered from loss of appetite, torpid bowels, flatulence, headaches, nervousness, etc., never forget to recommend it to their friends. They know that it helps. And others again have convinced themselves that Triner's Angelica Bitter Tonic is an excellent re-builder of energy, that Triner's Cough Sedative is unsurpassed for colds and coughs, that Triner's Liniment gives a quick relief in rheumatism and neuralgia. Fall Suits On Tailored Lines

The 1919 autumn suit is strictly tailored. Its lines have none of the softness of recent seasons and often the edges of the coat are bound in braid, which makes it even more severe, notes a prominent fashion writer.

It seems certain that the strictly tailored effect with the three-quarter length coat and a skirt with circular fullness will remain with us during the season.

Reminiscent of the time of Louis XV and Louis XVI with the "nipped-in" shoulder and semifitted waistline are many of these jackets with coat skirts that are full and flaring and equipped with big pockets at the sides, and though the skirts have more fullness than the models of the past season they are still straight of line.

The lines of the coat as well as the one-piece dresses have the effect of the redingote. The fullness, a little below the hips, is set in by cartridge plaits, as well as by cleverly placed stitched tucks, which gives the slim silhouette.

Distinctive Models.

A smart coat and skirt costume is fashioned on the lines of those which no doubt will be seen on the modish woman this fall and winter.

This suit is made of soft, green duvetyn. The closing of the front is effected by one single button at the waistline. The collar is high and fastens with two buttons. There is a single wide revers faced with velvet. The full flaring coat skirts slant away from the front. The skirt is also made with a seam which begins at the left side of the waistline and slants toward the right. A hat of green velvet in same tint as the coat revers completes the costume.

Another suit is made of black velveteen, the coat semifitted and fastened straight down the front from chin to a little below the waistline with a row of small, round, material buttons and loops. The sleeves are also button trimmed. At the hips three flounces have been inset, which gave the modish flare. This unusually smart costume is topped by a small black draped toque.

Still another is an exceedingly attractive frock of velvety finished brown duvetyn. It has the new high collar buttoned close up around the neck and chin and the new flaring sleeves button trimmed to the elbow. The bodice is made basque effect. The skirt is rather wide and has large pocket draperies at the sides. The costume is accompanied by a chic dark brown velvet hat trimmed at the edge with an antique gold cord.

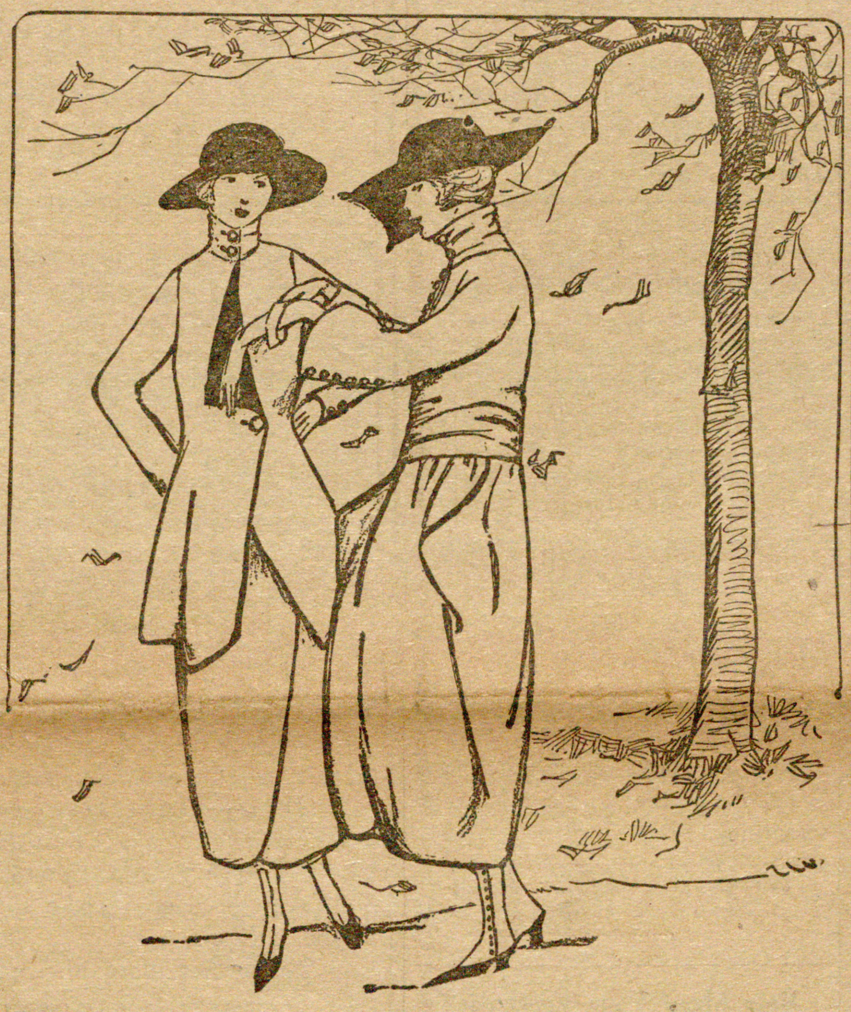
The Dressy Blouse.

After the momentous question of the fall suit has been settled the average woman immediately turns her attention to the blouse to accompany it. In former years the white lingerie waist was considered good form and quite elaborate enough for ordinary wear and most occasions. But conditions have changed. Such charming blouses have been developed these latter years that the simple shirtwaist—forerunner of them all—now seems to be relegated to the row of discarded garments. Perhaps the laundry problem has had something to do with this. While many business women prefer the tailored shirtwaist it is now apt to be of a soft pliant crepe or satin or silk requiring no starch and the simplest laundry attention.

Well-dressed women everywhere recognize the value of the blouse in the exact shade of the coat suit, making thus a perfect costume as a rule suitable for almost every occasion.

Smart Georgette Models.

This fall there are the smartest of little blouses of georgette crepe or crepe de chine in all the fashionable colors. Often a blouse, say of navy blue or brown georgette crepe, will have a relieving note of beige or some light harmonizing tone and frequently they are made over a lining of the lighter tone material.



Charming Models Built of Green and Brown Duvetyn, Which Promise to Be Conspicuous Fall and Winter Favorites.

New and Vivid Colorings

The smart woman of limited income will pay little heed to the new and rather vivid colorings. She will quite wisely choose one of the lovely browns or blues or greens which are offered, leaving the new Liberty reds for her more fortunate sisters with a larger wardrobe. For the materials, she will choose duvetyn—that is, if she can afford it—but, if she finds this too expensive, then she will favor fine velours or a soft velveteen, a Poiret twill or a heavy English serge.

The phrase "unbelted, yet belted," may be used in describing a suit with a coat which is straight and long to the knees. It has a flat back and front, while circular rippling fullness is held under narrow belts at the waistline at either side. A narrow rolled collar runs almost to the waistline where the two front sections of the coat meet and fasten with link buttons of black bone. There are pockets outlined with bands of the material, but no trimming is used. The skirt, which is ever so slightly circular, falls in ripples to a becoming length.

Especially created for the woman who favors loose lines in spite of the new semifitted effects is a lovely design that would be charming in duvetyn or velvet, materials to which it is very well adapted. Most distinctive are the lines of the coat. Though back and front are flat, there are loose flowing sides that tuck in under at the bottom. The narrow belts of the material confine the waist in front, while a straight band of the material forms the collar, crushing softly around the neck. Long fitted sleeves are finished with unusual cuffs, loops of the material. The skirt is very simple with easy fullness.

Cuff Turban Is New.

What is described as the cuff turban is an interesting new small hat. A Paris model on this order is of hatters' plush and is finished with a scroll embroidered mesh veil that is uniquely draped over the hat.

FOGGY?

If Bilious, Constipated or Headachy take "Cascarets."

Your system is filled with liver and bowel poison which keeps your skin sallow, your stomach upset, your head foggy and aching. Your meals are turning into poison, gases and acids. They never sicken you like Calomel, Salts, Oil or nasty, harsh pills. They cost so little too—Cascarets work while you sleep.—Adv.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? BETTER LOOK OUT!

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its sale.

The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

Having Sewing Machines, Igorrotes Possibly Will Send Forth Call for the Fashion Magazines.

Wearing about as little clothing as is possible even in the least sophisticated part of the Philippines, the Igorrotes of Bontoc in the mountain province have little need of sewing; but Bontoc at last has a sewing machine. The first sewing machine ever seen in Bontoc turned up there recently as a prize for the winning team in a tug-of-war contest at a local celebration. Never did a crowd of nearly naked villagers look with more interest at a new object of curiosity than did the simple Igorrotes when the wonder of the sewing machine was explained to them; after which the tug-of-war was contested in the vigorous fashion inherited from generations of tribal ancestors to whom this simple exercise had stood as a great tribal sport. The winning team presumably carried off the sewing machine, and one may imagine that the natives are proud to possess it as a rare and impressive curiosity. But the time has yet to come when a sewing machine will be of much practical importance to the average Igorrote family.

DEFY TIME BY KEEPING FIT

Long Life and Health Offered to All Who Will Obey a Few Simple but Imperative Rules.

When one has been overworking, undersleeping, overdrinking, overeating, and underexercising, germs multiply rapidly because the "white wings" of the human system are too tired to clean them out.

A long illness follows.

Some day we will tell the truth in death certificates and reports will be made like this:

"Died after thirty years of overeating."

"Smothered himself to death. Worked and slept in unventilated rooms."

"Burned out. Slept only six hours a night."

Good health is a luxury we all can enjoy if we are willing to play the game on the long law of averages.

Eat lightly, drink lots of water, breathe fresh air every night and day, get plenty of sleep, keep clean inside and outside, and Father Time will pass you by.—The Fortuna Magazine.

When a man says he "means business" it will depend on whether he has any business in him.

BAZAAR BIG SUCCESS.

The bazaar and supper directed by the Ladies' Aid society of the St. John Evangelical church Thursday was a very successful affair, in spite of the rainy weather. The receipts totaled $480. Everything on sale brought good prices. The supper, too, brought in big returns. Following the supper, a program was given which was very good. In addition to the recitations there were several musical numbers.

DANCE FREE TO SOLDIERS.

The Mokena Men's club will direct a dance at their pavilion in the Cappel grove Saturday night of this week. Admission and refreshments will be free to all the boys who served in the army or navy. MISSION SUNDAY

Next Sunday is to be Mission Sunday in the churches of Joliet and a special collection and special services will be held for the Morning Star mission, which is holding a three-day festival beginning November 16, in celebration of its tenth anniversary.

Expect Response.

This will be the first time in the history of the mission that it has asked for assistance from the organized churches of the community and it is expected that the response will be generous.

In addition to this more than 200 police court visits were made by Peter McCarthy superintendent of the mission.

Program Arranged.

Walter Macpherson, Rev. H. Hastings of the Central Presbyterian church; U. S G. Blakeley of Plainfield; Rev. G. C Carswell, Chicago, and Frank Anderson of Lockport will constitute the speakers.

Things Accomplished That Illinois Agricultural Association and County Farm Bureaus Have Worked On.

1. Wheat price guarantee maintained.
2. Fair wheat marketing rule adopted.
3. Daylight saving law repealed.
4. Illinois pure seed law passed.
5. Collective sales of farmers made safe by conspiracy law amendment.
6. A co-operative wool marketing of all Illinois counties.
7. Membership campaigns carried on in 14 counties, in one of which 97 per cent of all farmers joined.
8. Told President Wilson in his office that farmers are not to blame for high cost of living, gave facts and reasons why farmers must have cost of production, plus a fair profit on their produce.

State Association Is Now Working On:

1. Keeping a "trouble man" in Chicago stock yards.
2. Establishing a claim department for service of all members.
3. Studying conditions relative to raw rock phosphate supply.
4. Constitutional convention.

C. J. Cooper, dairy farmer from Sycamore, Ill., and a member of the Chicago Milk board, one of the eight who Chicago's state attorney persecuted for over two years because they asked the cost of production for their milk, is co-operating with Will county farmers to reorganize their Farm bureau and build up a large membership in the Illinois Agricultural association. He is quite well known among the Will county dairymen. He spoke at a farmers' picnic at Mokena two years ago. He has been spending his entire time visiting farmers over the county and is pleased with the warm reception given him. He thinks Will county has some of the finest land in the state, is loud in his praise of the dairy and beef herds seen. Words failed him when he tried to give opinion of the pigs raised by the boys' and girls' club. He thinks dad will have to work nights if he expects ever to hold his own with his children.

Frankfort

The Charles Nieland farm, which is tenanted by William Tobeck, has also been sold according to reports in real estate circles. A party from the vicinity of Lockport is said to have been the purchaser, paying $1,000 down to bind the deal. Mr. Tobeck is going to sell his stock and farming implements November 20 and following the sale, expects to locate in Matteson.

STEPHEN PROPERTY SOLD.

The village of Frankfort has also come in on the recent real estate transfers. The old David Stephen property has been sold by Edwin Stephen to Rosebelle Poskin, the consideration being $1,500. Charles Beadle and family who have been occupying this place, have moved into the Hunt residence.

A bakery sale will be directed by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Frankfort Methodist church, Saturday, November 22, at the R. E. Stephen store.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

If instead of a gem, or even a flower, we could cast the gift of a lovely thought in the heart of a friend, that would be giving as the angels give.—George MacDonald.

THINGS WORTH REMEMBERING.

When going upstairs place the whole foot on the stair and keep the body erect; this manner of climbing stairs will not strain any muscle unduly.

A dish mop used for washing dishes is a great saving on the hands as the water may be used much hotter and the process is finished quicker.

When raisins and prunes stick to the paper which wraps them, hold them a moment near the steam of a tea-kettle.

A baby, no matter how young, should be given frequent drinks of sterilized water. A bottle is the best way to give it until the child is old enough to drink from a cup.

Orange juice for babies, given between meals, is a most wholesome and refreshing drink.

A harmless laxative which will be a pleasure to the children to take is the following: Grind through a meat grinder one pound each of figs, dates, raisins and softened prunes, with five cents worth of senna leaves. Mix and knead well, form into a loaf and wrap in waxed paper; keep in a cool place. For a child a piece the size of a pecan is sufficient; adults may take a larger piece. This will keep for weeks, is entirely harmless and much less expensive than many drugs sold for the purpose.

Add preserved citron to the mincemeat; it adds greatly to the flavor of this time-honored pie filling; the citron melon which is home prepared, not that used for cake.

Citron melon, if grated before preserving, may be used for many dainty dishes or garnishes for ices, giving a delicate flavor well liked and adding to the variety of good things as well.

One may boil a pudding in a double boiler instead of in the old-time pudding bag. Line the upper part of the boiler with oiled paper, turn in the pudding and it will come out in good form.

When it is necessary to clean upholstered furniture indoors, cover with a dampened cloth and beat; the dust clings to the cloth.

Coffee custard is prepared by steeping two tablespoonfuls of ground coffee in two cupfuls of milk; then strain, add the eggs and sugar and cook as usual.

There is only one way to get ready for immortality, and that is to love this life and live it as bravely and faithfully and cheerfully as we can.—Henry Van Dyke.

GAME IN SEASON.

A young tender rabbit is a delicious dish when properly cooked and served.

Wash and wipe the meat carefully; cut in serving-sized pieces; brown in a little fat, then add water and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, cooking slowly until tender. Thicken the gravy and serve as one does fricasseed chicken. If an older rabbit is to be cooked, it should be parboiled in water with a tablespoonful or two of vinegar until tender, then brown as above.

Roast Wild Duck.—Clean and truss the duck; sprinkle well with salt and pepper and cover the breast with thin strips of salt pork. Place on a rack in a dripping pan or roaster; add a little water to the pan; place in a hot oven and cook for half an hour. Baste at least five times during the roasting. Serve with currant jelly. An onion or two may be put into the cavity of the bird, or a bunch of celery, removing before serving. These flavors add much to the flavor of a wild duck. Most epicures agree that the highly-seasoned stuffings overpower the delicate flavor of the bird. For those who still cling to the method of stuffing, the following will be enjoyed:

Raisin Stuffing.—Soak one quart of bread crumbs in cold water and squeeze dry; add two well-beaten eggs, one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, one cupful of chopped raisins and one-half cupful of chopped celery.

Roast Venison.—Rub the roast all over with the cut side of a lemon; lard it with strips of fat salt pork, and roast 15 minutes to the pound, basting occasionally; cook until tender but rare. Serve with spiced grape jelly. If one cares to improve the flavor, add a small chopped onion and carrot to the roasting pan.

Rabbit With Vegetables.—Place a thick layer of onions in a casserole, then a layer of rabbit cut in serving-sized pieces, a sifting of flour and seasoning and another layer of onions, and rabbit until all is used. Cover and cook in a moderate oven.

As no moisture (except that in the mixture), is added, care must be taken to keep it from scorching. Serve with mashed potatoes.

The happy state of mind so rarely possessed in which we can say "I have enough," is the highest attainment of philosophy. Happiness consists not in possessing much but in being content with what we possess. He who wants little always has enough.—Zimmerman.

MILK DESSERTS.

Milk, the food best suited to children, makes the best of foundation for wholesome desserts, good for the young, wholesome for those of weakened digestion.

A smooth, nice custard may be made using two eggs and a pint of milk. If one wishes to have the custard thick enough to mold, three to four eggs should be added. The more egg the more nutriment, so it is a dish to be recommended when eggs are at all reasonable in price.

Baked Custard.—Beat four eggs slightly, add a half cupful of sugar and a quart of fresh milk. Cook over water in the oven, sprinkling in a bit of cinnamon, nutmeg or any flavor desired. A pinch of salt should also be added to all milk dishes. Do not allow the water to boil at any time during the baking or the custard will whey. Any egg and milk combination should always be cooked at a low temperature. To test the custard to know when it is done dip a knife into the center; if it comes out clean the custard is ready to be taken from the oven and hot water. If the cups are allowed to stand outside the oven in the water they will often overcook.

Caramel Custard.—Melt in a smooth omelet pan one-half cupful of sugar, add gradually four cupfuls of scalding hot milk and stir until the caramel is dissolved. Beat five eggs, add half a teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of vanilla and strain into a mould rinsed in cold water. Bake as usual. Serve with a caramel sauce.

No man or woman of the humblest sort can really be strong, gentle, pure and good without somebody being helped and comforted by the very existence of that goodness.—Phillips Brooks.

SOUR MILK AND CREAM DISHES.

Cooked food made from sour milk or sour cream has a flavor and texture which is especially good. Cakes made with cream or sour milk keep better and improve in flavor.

Waffles.—Mix and sift one cupful of flour, a half teaspoonful of salt and one and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Beat one egg, add one cupful of sour milk, then the flour mixture; beat well; add a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in half a tablespoonful of water, and when well mixed add a tablespoonful of butter; beat again and cook on a hot waffle iron. Serve hot with maple sirup.

Sour Milk Biscuit.—Mix and sift together one quart of flour, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful each of salt and sugar; cut in two tablespoonfuls of shortening and moisten with one and one-half cupfuls of sour milk. Roll out and bake in a hot oven. Serve with honey or maple sirup.

Spoon Bread.—Take one pint of coarse white cornmeal, half a teaspoonful of salt, and enough boiling water to make a smooth paste. Add one egg, one cupful of sour milk or buttermilk, and a half teaspoonful of soda. Beat until smooth; pour into a hot, well-buttered baking dish and then bake quickly.

Sour Cream Cookies.—Cream half a cupful of shortening with one and one-half cupfuls of sugar; add two beaten eggs, half a cupful of sour cream, one teaspoonful of soda and flour to roll; flavor with nutmeg and chill before rolling.

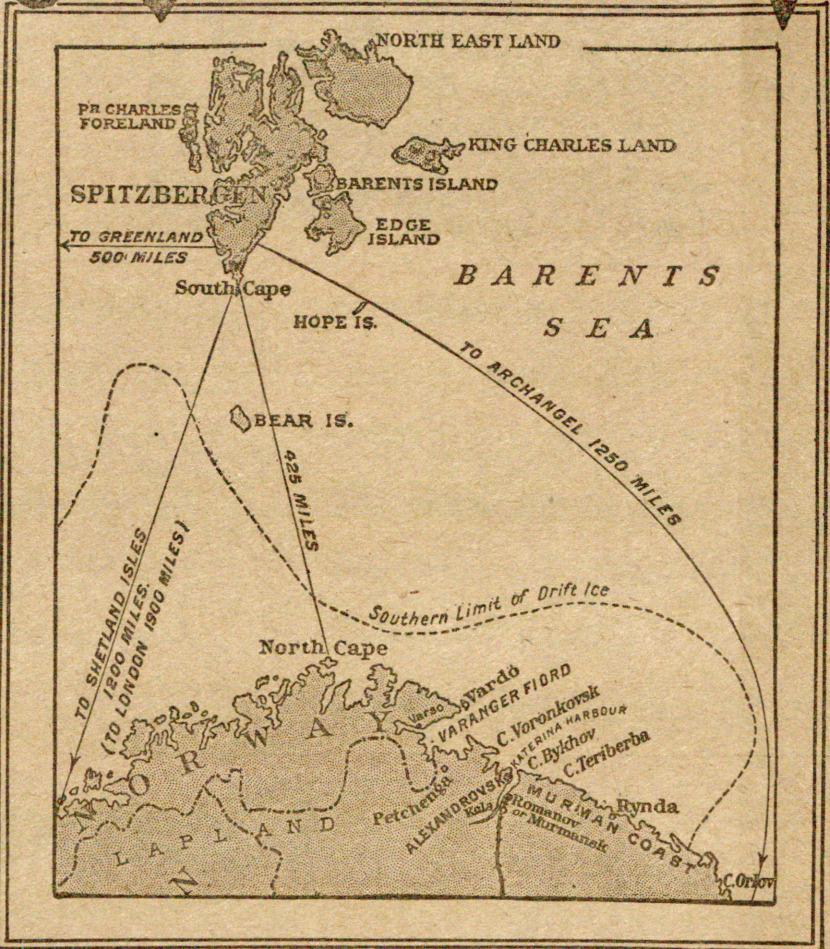
SPITZBERGEN



IN 1596 two Dutchmen, Barents and Heemskirk, discovered Spitzbergen, and were immediately followed by British explorers. A British seaman—Poole—was one of these, and he was the first man to find coal in Spitzbergen, in 1604. Two notable British explorers were Fotherby and Baffin, who sailed to Spitzbergen on behalf of the well-known company of London merchants known as the Muscovy company. Carrying with them a royal warrant, they authoritatively and definitely annexed Spitzbergen in 1614 to the British crown in the name of King James for his heirs and successors. So it is certainly British yet by right of succession, whatever the successive heads of the British government have been or will be, since the reign of James VI of Scotland and I of Great Britain, writes Dr. William S. Bruce in Sphere.

In 1914 Britain consented to sit at a conference table, convened by other powers, at Christiania, to discuss in what way the government of Spitzbergen should be organized, because of its increasing commercial development by enterprising miners and hunters of various nationalities—British and foreign. There had been an earlier conference at which Russia, Norway, and Sweden only had sat, and at which, I understand, Britain had refused to consent to sit, or at all events definitely did not sit and did not recognize it as internationally authoritative. But in 1914—the tercentenary of Fotherby and Baffin's British annexation—the British government, which had the ancient right and title to Spitzbergen as heirs and successors of King James, took up the very generous attitude of insisting, if a British government delegate was to sit, that every power represented there must first acknowledge that Spitzbergen was Terra Nullius, or No Man's Land, thus not forcing British rights forward, but also refusing to admit the right of any other power present to have any right or title whatever. This conference was sitting in Christiania in July, 1914. Besides Britain, the United States, Germany, Russia, France, Holland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark sent delegates, but when the war broke out the different delegates returned to their respective countries and the conference was dissolved without result, and Spitzbergen is, and remains, a Terra Nullius.

Who Shall Rule the Island?

What will next happen it is impossible to say, even by one who, like myself, has been very intimately associated with Spitzbergen for almost a quarter of a century. But certain things must happen regarding some of the powers which were represented at the conference in 1914. (1) Germany must not be allowed in future to take any part whatever in the organization of Spitzbergen in spite of her forced bargain with Russia at the Brest-Litovsk treaty. (2) Russia is surely not able to take a fully responsible position now with her disorganized government. (3) The United States has not the same interests, because her citizens have since sold their estates to Norwegians; Holland has only early historical interests, France and Denmark have no special economic interests, and Britain, Norway and Sweden remain the three specially interested parties.

Which of these three countries is able to look justly after the rights of its own subjects, as well as those of the other two nationalities who have interests? Personally, for many strong reasons, I most emphatically emphasize that the British government should be asked by the world powers at the peace conference to exercise its rights not only as heir to the British rights and titles as defined and declared by Fotherby and Baffin in 1614, but also for the protection of subjects of other nations who have some, but not exclusive, rights there.

Spitzbergen will soon be recognized as the goose with the golden egg. "Let Spitzbergen develop." In Spitzbergen we find the finest coal in the world, equal to the best Welsh steam coal. Extensive iron ore deposits are reported by the Northern Exploration company of London. Oil deposits are known and claimed by the Scottish Spitzbergen syndicate, as well as very extensive deposits of some of the finest gypsum in the world, while there are indications of other valuable minerals, which will require skilled investigation and handling by expert mining geologists and engineers.

Furs and Fisheries.

Besides minerals there are fur-bearing animals which would provide sport and fur if properly protected by the British government, and not allowed to be massacred and even extensively poisoned by northern hunters. Let these animals be bred and only legally killed with discretion, and there will be a large permanent revenue from them. Valuable foxes and reindeer still exist in considerable numbers in spite of the indiscriminate slaughter that has taken place. There are seals, whales, and porpoises. The walrus can be re-established as well as the polar bear. Fisheries, too, might also be organized, and all these animals could produce a large revenue if properly handled and properly protected by an organized and unselfish government.

Then there are the beauties and wonders of this arctic land of promise, besides these wonderful mineral and animal resources mentioned. Think of the birds, many in their millions, and many of economic value, notably the eider duck, and some very edible birds and eggs—geese, ducks, and others. One may scan acres, even miles, of purple saxifrage, like purple heather. One may wade through luxuriant beds of sulphur buttercups, and find brilliant patches of arctic poppies and other plants, thriving even at great and exposed altitudes. Many brilliantly-colored lichens etch out almost every rock, swampy bits luxuriate with the richest mosses, liverworts, and interesting algae, and pools teem with crustacean and other animal and vegetable life; even the remnants of snow are colored with red, yellow, green, and other colored algae known over centuries.

Spitzbergen, besides mineral, animal and plant resources, has a large series of beautiful harbors and anchorages, so what with these and the Gulf stream there is every possible facility to get there comfortably and safely. Let our shell-shock patients and other wounded heroes thoroughly recover in Spitzbergen in proper sanatoria in the healthiest climate in the world, where you can't get a cold or a fever because there are no germs—a sterile, wonderful, and translucent atmosphere suffuses this land where the sun never sets all the summer and consequently the plants never cease to grow, and where everything is more wonderful and beautiful than in any inhabited part of the world from pole to pole.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. Worthline, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

INDIGESTION

Caused by

Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloat after eating, food repeating, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are, nevertheless, traceable to an acid-stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental miseries that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pains in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise.

Tinley Park

Tinley Park, Nov. 13.—Tinley Park has had a restriction in ice cream parlors of late. During the summer three ice cream parlors flourished. The past week the Misses Hopkins who have been running an ice cream parlor, quit the business for the winter and have stored the fixtures. They have also closed up the candy and cigar store, which they conducted in connection with their ice cream parlor.

Charles Holstein has also quit handling ice cream, so the field has been left entirely to Joe Grece, who expects to carry the frozen delicacy during the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fiegel have just returned from New Ulm, Minn., where Mrs. Fiegel underwent a very serious operation for goitre. She has been taking treatments from various doctors, but had no relief. The doctors began to despair of her life as the goitre was growing inward. A surgeon at New Ulm was recommended and the trip was made to Minnesota a few weeks ago. The operation was successfully performed and Mrs. Fiegel is getting along fine now. While in New Ulm the Herman Stege family was visited.

Armistice day, Tuesday, Nov. 11 was quietly observed here. The large American flag of the village was flown from the village flag pole. The factory whistles of Harvey and Blue Island were very distinctly heard in Tinley Park.

George Lorenz will direct a dance at the Saenger hall on Saturday night this week.

The local exchange of the Chicago Telephone company is finding it very difficult to secure the necessary hired help. Girls are pretty hard to get. The local manager wishes to engage a girl who could go back and forth to work. Girls from neighboring towns will be acceptable providing they can make good train connections, so as to be able to get here in time in the morning. Applicants should be directed to Mrs. John Funk, Tinley Park, Ill.

Born on Sunday to Mr. and Mrs Henry Siebrandt a daughter. The infant died shortly after the birth, funeral being held Monday; Rev. A. Budenhagen of the Zion Lutheran church officiating.

A number of Tinley Park people who have relatives in Germany, have been in communication with them. The letters received tell of the great suffering, which most of the people are forced to undergo. Hard times are prevailing and there is much distress. [illegible] h [illegible] ann and George Bold have had recent letters from relatives in the fatherland.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hick was christened on Sunday by Rev. A. Budenhagen. The name given was Loretta.

Albert Hardy is going to have an auction sale on his farm Saturday Nov. 15.

The Sunday school of the Zion Lutheran church has begun work on their annual Christmas program. A very interesting program is being prepared.

New Lenox

The dairy farm of S. P. McDowell, consisting of 172 acres located half a mile east of New Lenox, was sold at public auction Thursday to John E. Sweedler of Elwood for $227.50 per acre.

J. L. Wilson of Joliet conducted the auction on the premises in which 20 bidders took part.

Mr. McDowell is employed at the Phoenix Horseshoe Works in Joliet. August Osmus is tenanting this farm at present.

At the close of the meeting the various committees who were in charge of the bazaar, will give their final reports.

TO DIRECT CARD PARTY.

The Ladies of the Grace Episcopal church have had the church furnace repaired and other repairs made on the church. To cover the expenses entailed it is proposed to hold a public card party at the Grange hall on Saturday night, November 22.

The New Lenox Royal Neighbors conducted a public card party at the Grange hall Saturday night. There was a good attendance.

The Grace Episcopal church has been supplied with a pastor and church services are held every Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The old Osmus place which was recently vacated by the McDonald family, has been rented again.

WILL WINTER IN CALIFORNIA.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Dickinson expect to leave the latter part of this month for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will spend the winter. Their daughter, Miss Violet, will remain in Chicago for the winter.

MRS. JOHN FACEY DEAD.

Mrs. John Facey, well known to New Lenox people, died at her home in Joliet, Saturday. She had been in poor health for some time. She had lived on the local camp grounds for several summers and had many warm friends here.

Brought Harvest Hand Along.

While a Nebraska farmer living near Kimball was working with his harvesting crew, wondering how he could get more help, an airplane landed in a cleared patch of wheat stubble, and the aviator walked over to the harvesters, leaving the other occupant of the airplane in his seat. "I've got a fellow here I found begging on the street at Omaha," the aviator told the farmer, "and hearing of the lack of harvest help I've brought him here to the first good farm landing place so he can't avoid getting the job he said he couldn't find. The rest is up to you."

Java's Business Need.

Lion's Head in Fountains.

The original reason for the choice of a lion's head in public fountains where the water comes out of a lion's mouth was, remarks an exchange, that among the ancient Egyptians the rising of the waters of the Nile, which was the most important event of the year, meaning life and prosperity to the whole nation, always took place when the sun was in the constellation of Leo. The lion's head on fountains is a symbol of the life giving waters of the Nile.

Lilies of the Field.

The "lilies of the field," so often mentioned in the Bible, are thought to be the red and purple, particularly the red anemones with black centers. These anemones grow among the thorn hedges of the East, which accounts for the saying "lilies among thorns."

Nothing New.

"LIFE SAVING IS RED CROSSAIM"

Most Important Work of Peace Is Welfare of People, Says Dr. Farrand.

ORGANIZATION MUST GO ON

Co-ordination of All Movements to Conserve Humanity and Prevent Disease Is After-War Task.

"The efficient organization which the American Red Cross built up to meet the demands of war must not be permitted to slip back into inactivity," said Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Central Committee of the American Red Cross who is touring the country to place the proposed peace work squarely before the people. His tour was outlined to carry the message into all states as a forerunner of the Third Red Cross Roll Call, to be conducted from Nov. 2 to 11 for 20,000,000 annual memberships and $15,000,000.

Most Diseases Preventable.

"The war has accentuated and sharpened our realization that the greatest contributing factor in disturbing the happiness of mankind is the question of physical well-being, the problem of health and disease," Dr. Farrand said. A large portion of the disease of the world is preventable, and the people naturally are looking to organizations that are able to help and guide; that are built on lines that beget confidence.

"The organization best equipped for this purpose is the American Red Cross. States and municipalities must conduct this campaign and the local Red Cross organizations are operating units. For the last ten years leaders in health work have sought an organization capable of co-ordinating the various local activities into a massed movement which would produce results. That organization is the Red Cross.

Nursing Program Developed.

Are we not going to take advantage of this opportunity to better humanity? We have here an organization that represents every national interest; that knows no party and no creed; that has attached to it every type of man, woman and child in the United States and we propose to put this energy behind the great movement to co-ordinate and bring together these varied interests so far as possible.

"The biggest activity which the Red Cross has undertaken in this field is the great public nursing program. The entire movement for public health depends upon the adequate development of the public nurse."

GEN. PERSHING GIVES $10,000 TO RED CROSS.

The last act of Gen. Pershing before he left France for the United States was to turn over to the American Red Cross 94,625.40 francs, about $10,000, to be used by the Red Cross for the care of French orphan children who had been "adopted" by the Red Cross. A chaplain attached to Gen. Pershing's staff visited the Red Cross headquarters and saw the work which was being done for the children. Apparently he had carried a report to the commander in chief, and the check was the result.

Earliest Mention of Coal.

The earliest mention of coal in the territory now comprised in the United States is recorded in the journal of Father Hennepin, who in 1679 refers to the site of a "cole" mine on Illinois river, near the present city of Ottawa.

Good Test.

Mrs. Lovejoy—"Did the war benefit your husband any, Mrs. Newbride?" Mrs. Newbride—"Oh, yes. After his life in the trenches he says he can stand housecleaning every week."

Most Distant Cepheids.

The most distant cepheids now known are nearly 20,000 light years from the sun—almost as far away as the nearest of the globular clusters (about 21,000 light years).

Feline Felicitations.

Edith: "Jack told me I was so interesting and beautiful." Marie: "And yet you will trust yourself for life with a man who begins deceiving you even during his courtship."

Correct Definition.

Bigotry is the crusade of the dead against the living.—Life.

Why That Lame Back?

Morning lameness, sharp twinges when bending and an all day backache; each is cause enough to suspect kidney complaint. She came through the change so well that I took these two remedies and my health improved at once. All of the annoying and distressing conditions that I had suffered with disappeared, and I came through the 'change of life' just as strong and well as my mother had years ago. Jack—Oh, fierce! After you've touched him for money five or ten times he begins asking you to repay it.

About the Same Thing.

Hewit—Were you ever under a cloud?

Jewett—Well, I've walked with my wife when she had her big hat on.

He Didn't Stay Very Long.

Caller—Bessie, what did your sister say when you told her I was here?

Bessie—She said, "Great Heavens! That bore here again!"

Probably.

He—Yes; I've just secured a position as buyer of millinery, etc.

She—Do you mean you're married?

A Sale in Prospect.

De Friend—What is that picture intended to represent?

De Artist—Board and lodging for six weeks.

Wifey Didn't.

"You brute! The idea of your calling your wife the last rose of summer and other insulting names."

"Hold on, judge! I never used that metaphor. You see, a rose dries up some time."

The Great Mimic.

First Actor (didactically)—After all, Death is the star tragedian.

Second Actor—I don't know, I always think of him as a low comedian —a mere mimic—because he's always taking some one off.

Egotism.

"Why do you carry a lantern in your quest of that rare specimen, an honest man?"

"Merely to be original," replied Diogenes. "Ordinarily a man engaged in such a search thinks all he needs is a looking-glass."

Impossible.

"She married a tall artist—"

"Come, now, begin again. Everybody knows that artists are always short."

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, such an abundance of thick, heavy, invigorated hair; a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair, gloriously fluffy, bright and so easy to manage.

Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, stringy or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy, golden gleams and tender lights. The youthful glints, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a tonic-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and stops falling hair. Get delightful Danderine for a few cents at any drug or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on bottle.—Adv.

Naturally Road Is Crooked.

For the benefit of automobilists who have wondered why the road from Exeter to Hampton, N. H., is so crooked, it is explained that when the first settlements were being made in New Hampshire, a bear made a night raid on that part of the Hampton settlement known as Wigwam row, and men in pursuit the next morning followed its tracks in the light snow to its watering place at Squamscott Falls, and built the road accordingly.

Shave With Cuticura Soap

And double your razor efficiency as well as promote skin purity, skin comfort and skin health. No mug, no slimy soap, no germs, no waste, no irritation even when shaved twice daily. One soap for all uses—shaving, bathing and shampooing.—Adv.

Marley

Marley, Nov. 13.—On Sunday evening, November 9, the service at the Marley church was given over to commemorate the signing of the armistice. One feature of the service was the demobilization of the service flag, with appropriate exercises. Special music and an address by Rev. H. L. Rust, the pastor, completed the program. The Marley soldier boys, their parents and friends attended the services in full force.

ENTERTAIN BROTHERHOOD.

The Marley Brotherhood was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lauffer Friday night. The evening was pleasantly spent with various pastimes and contests. In an auto contest Arthur Lauffer won the first prize, having the most names of the various makes of autos.

A spelling bee was an interesting and merry feature of the program. Miss Carrie Tilsey was the star speller, "spelling down" all the other spellers.

The assistant hostesses were: Mrs James Frazier, Mrs. Frank Savage and Mrs. Barney Hostert.

COMMUNITY DINNER.

The regular Thanksgiving day services will be held at the Marley church Thanksgiving day, followed with a community dinner, to be served in the parlors of the church.

HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE MEETS.

The Marley Household Science club met Tuesday with Mrs. James Frazier.

The boy scouts met at the parsonage Friday night.

Under the auspices of the local troop of boy scouts, Scout night will be observed at the Marley church on Sunday, November 16. Captain Cole, executive of the Joliet council of boy scouts, will be the speaker. Mr. Cole is an affable young man and is vitally interested in the scout movement. You will want to hear him.

For the children's talks on Sunday mornings the pastor has chosen "Junior Mission Stories," gotten up by Margaret T. Applegarth. So far we have had "The Story of a Name," "How We Learned About it," "The Little House You Live In." For the remaining four Sundays in November the themes will be "Scaffolding," "Won't You Come Into My Parlor?" "Children in Blue, and What They Do," "Over the Hills and Far Away," "In a Chinese Chair That Can Travel All Day." We urge parents to bring their children to church; we believe impressions made in their childhood will work for their good.

The Marley Dramatic club is preparing to present a play in the near future. The title of the play is "Deacon Dubbs."

Only the immediate relatives of the bridal couple witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Folkers have the well wishes of a large circle of friends for a happy married life. The future home is to be in Frankfort. Mr. Folkers is employed as mail carrier from the Frankfort post office.

Every Land Owner and Tenant is urged to join Illinois Agricultural Association and

Will County Farm Bureau

Farmers face ruin unless Cost of Production is maintained.

A drive for membership will be started in Will County Tuesday, November 18. It is expected this County will join hands with the other counties in the State for

Farmers Need to take care of the selling end of their business the same as any other manufacturing plant. The cut on price of hogs, corn and all other farm products will put all producers out of business if continued. There are no prospects of lower prices of farm machinery, clothing, labor or any article that farmers buy. Farmers are the greatest consumers of both labor and manufactured goods of any class in the world. This is the proper time to for as long as farmers are unorganized they cannot be fairly represented with other lines of business. The farmers do not want to put any one out of business, neither do they want to quarrel, nor to be crushed down to poverty. Farmers are not asking for a shorter day with big pay, nor time and one-half for overtime, nor double pay for Sunday. They do ask for cost of production, plus a small profit.

November 12 and 13, twenty-four other states will join hands with Illinois and form a national association. Every member in Will County will get full benefit of this great organization.

The Illinois Agricultural association, with the aid of its 72 farm bureaus, has done much along legislative lines to help the farmers get their honest dues and to a certain extent stabilized prices. Much more can be accomplished when all the farm bureaus and 90 per cent of Illinois farmers join hands so farmers can

Get a Square Deal

The plan provides that six local farmers in each township drive one day, accompanied by six other Illinois farmers, who represent the Illinois Agricultural association. Every landowner and tenant in the county will be visited. Every township chairman and the men who are to drive one day, also every farmer who is interested, are requested to meet at the Association of Commerce Auditorium, Joliet, Ill., Monday, November 17, at 1:30 p. m., to get acquainted with the state workers.
